Executive Summery

On 2011 the WOF team did a survey of the homeless and needy people in America. According to their findings there were more than 1000 homeless in closet areas which lead the team to start feeding them from then. WOF is feeding them very frequently and in special occasions like Christmas Eve and during thanks giving. WOF also is feeding the poor people that are living in The Midnight Mission, a shelter for the homeless to live with dignity. In this mission all the members of WOF took part as well as the little new members Leo and Bella. Leo and Bella are the smallest members of WOF who started philanthropy from the age 4 and 5 and are committed to The Midnight Mission.

Helping homeless living on the sidewalks of streets

When you think of America the first thing pricks to your mind will be luxurious life beautiful place and reach people but, once you get in to America you will see like most of the other countries across the globe, there are poor, needy, orphans and homeless people. One won't believe but it's the truth there are beggars anywhere on the streets and homeless people sleeping on the streets, parks and finds shelter under the trees or near the garbage areas. And when you think of Christmas Eve or Thanks giving what you think? Of course preparations, gifts, family gatherings, colorful tables, but not all are lucky enough to have these all. But there is always a God who never lets anyone's stomach empty and there are always mediators through who people gets their daily meal. WOF is happy for being a reason to smile and a mediator through who homeless people in America are being feed frequently. Since 2011 WOF team started feeding the homeless people frequently and also tried to help them during Christmas and thanksgivings.

WOF is helping people in Downtown, Los Angles which is the biggest place known for its poverty. The team would buy 500+ boxes of pizza and would go in the open streets of LA and hand out pizza slices to the homeless living on the sidewalks of streets.

The Midnight Mission

The midnight mission is homeless shelter in Los Angeles, opened with an aim to let the homeless also have a shelter and live with dignity. In this shelter 100s of homeless people lives and anyone who wants to help them in the form of clothing, money, food or anything in that matter are welcomed. They have volunteers in their kitchen cooking food. Taking this opportunity WOF also feeds those people every year in Christmas Eves and during thanksgivings. The WOF team gathers with the volunteers in their kitchen and cook for them. As the aim of WOF is not only feeding them once but multiple times. Thus, the team cooks double or triples of the amount for them each time keeping half in warmers for other time.
